

Continuing Medical Education (CME) series

Hospitals, Doctors and Nurses: The law and ethics of responsibility

This workshop is designed to introduce practicing physicians and other healthcare professionals, healthcare administrators and policymakers as well as any member of the public who attends the workshop to the law and ethics in relation to the responsibility of institutions (e.g. hospitals) for malpractice and the attribution of liability for the malpractice of others. In particular, the issue of doctors' potential liability for the malpractice of other healthcare professionals (e.g. nurses) will be considered.

Topics to be covered include:

1. Legal liability of institutions for malpractice (including the malpractice of others);
2. Legal liability of individuals for the malpractice of others;
3. Moral responsibility and institutions; and
4. Ethical duties to colleagues and professionalism

Instructors

Dr Lucy Frith

Dr Colm McGrath

Friday, 30 November 2018

6:30pm - 9:30pm &

Saturday, 1 December 2018

9:30am -12:30pm

Academic Conference Room,
11/F, Cheng Yu Tung Tower,
The University of Hong Kong,
Centennial Campus,
Pokfulam Road, Hong Kong

C M E L
Centre for Medical Ethics and Law

Phone: (852) 3917 1845
Fax: (852) 2549 8495
Website: www.cmel.hku.hk
Email: cmel@hku.hk
Facebook: @CMELHKU