President's Message

Dear Fellows and colleagues,

At the beginning of the Chinese New Year, I would like to extend my best wishes to all of you having a healthy and prosperous Year of the Rat!

The new year is off to a challenging start, with the novel coronavirus, which has been declared a public-health emergency of international concern by the WHO, affecting many people around the world. Medical professionals and members of the public are unfortunately facing unprecedented pressure caused by this virus. Especially in these challenging times, we medical professionals have a responsibility to safeguard the health and interest of every patient and the public. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all medical and healthcare workers for their dedication, professionalism, and perseverance to fight against this illness. At the same time, the Academy continues to support the education of Fellows and trainees by facilitating those examinations that require venue relocation. We hope to allow all candidates to pursue their careers as specialists on schedule and to further their contribution to the community.

Meanwhile, I am delighted to report that other projects of the Academy are making good progress. The study on the physical and psychological well-being of local young Fellows and trainees, conducted by the Young Fellows Chapter last year, is currently being analysed. Findings of the survey are targeted to be published in the first half of 2020, allowing us to better understand the aspects and means of sustaining good health and well-being for young doctors in Hong Kong.

2020 is shaping up to be another busy but fruitful year. The Academy will continue to review and refine procedures and systems in order to maintain high standards of supporting services for continuing medical education and continuous professional development. To this end, the Academy is developing an e-Portfolio system – a digital platform with profiles of Academy Fellows and trainees, including but not limited to record of examinations and training and work experience, as well as published journal articles – to help Colleges, Fellows and trainees keep their respective records in a more organised and structural way. Phase 1 of the system, involving fellowship nomination process, is under progressive development and the target launch date will be in the third quarter of this year. In addition, a number of medical events bringing together regional and international medical education experts from multi-disciplines are scheduled. Following the establishment of the Professionalism and Ethics Committee in 2019, the first event “Workshop on Development of Best Practice Guidelines in Genetic and Genomic Medicine” was successfully held last November. A series of enlightening events including talks and seminars are being planned. Moreover, the Medical Education Conference (MEC), one of the flagship events of the Academy, will be held on 30 May this year. This year's MEC, titled ‘Assessment in Postgraduate Medical Education’, features interactive workshops and inspirational plenaries highlighting the concept of assessment for learning. In addition, the Young Fellows Chapter will organise a symposium to share young doctors' perspectives on postgraduate assessment. I look forward to seeing you at the MEC in May!

I would also like to welcome all new Fellows who were admitted in December 2019 to the Academy family. You may keep an eye on the Academy's e-News and website to get the latest updates about the Academy and membership services!

Again, wishing you all a great year ahead!

Prof CS Lau
President

News and Announcements

New CME / CPD Principles & Guidelines 2020–22

A revised set of CME / CPD Principles & Guidelines has been approved and will become effective from the next cycle. Minor changes are in Section 10, in which the new Guidelines reflect the new requirement from Medical Council of Hong Kong for the Academy to provide information on CME/CPD of all Fellows after the end of cycle (instead of providing the information on those non-compliance cases only in the past).

Fellows can download the new guidelines from the website or using the QR code:
www.hkam.org.hk/news/list/201908/HKAM%20CME-CPD%20Guideline%202020-22.pdf

Maintenance and repair work on external walls of Academy Building (Phase II: January–June 2020)

Phase II of the major maintenance and repair work on the external walls of the Academy building will be carried out in the first half of 2020. For safety reasons, the Fellows' Garden on 3/F is closed until further notice. The Academy will ensure events held at the building are affected as minimally as possible.

Medical Education Conference 2020, 30 May 2020

The Academy is organising the 6th Medical Education Conference (MEC) on 30 May 2020, with the theme “Assessment in Postgraduate Medical Education” this year. The one-day conference features plenary lectures, symposia and workshops which will be delivered by renowned local and overseas medical professionals. Programme details can be found on the conference website online.hkam.org.hk/mec2020/ or using the QR code.

For enquiries, please contact the MEC 2020 Secretariat via email at mec2020@event.hkam.org.hk.

HKJC DPRI Updates

Emergency Preparedness: Get Ready. Basic Steps Campaign

The Hong Kong Jockey Club Disaster Preparedness and Response Institute (HKJC DPRI) launched the “Emergency Preparedness: Get Ready. Basic Steps” campaign in December 2019 to promote disaster preparedness among local communities.

The latest population-based survey conducted by HKJC DPRI found that 61% of interviewees do not take preventive measures even though they are aware of growing threats of natural disasters. Therefore, the aim of the new campaign is to educate the public to realise the potential risks, to plan accordingly, and to be prepared to respond to emergencies. In addition to promotional videos, a series of educational resources including printed materials, games, and activities for children have been published to convey the importance of disaster preparedness.

Further details can be found online: <https://www.hkjcdpri.org.hk/emergency-preparedness-get-ready-basic-steps-campaign>

HKJC ILCM Updates

New HKJC ILCM Honorary Director

Dr HY So has been appointed as the new Honorary Director of the Hong Kong Jockey Club Innovative Learning Centre for Medicine (HKJC ILCM), effective after the Annual General Meeting on 6 December 2019.

HKJC ILCM would like to extend sincere gratitude to Dr PP Chen for his guidance and advice on leading HKJC ILCM in pursuit of excellence in simulation-based medical education during the past four years. Dr Chen will continue to work closely with HKJC ILCM.

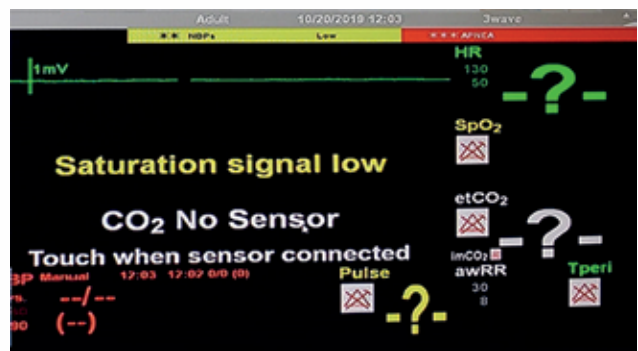

HKJC ILCM Facebook

To stay connected with all stakeholders such as committee members, alumni and working partners, HKJC ILCM has recently launched a Facebook page to provide access to the latest news about various courses and facilitate communication. Please simply visit the following link leading to our Facebook page to chat with us and give us likes: www.facebook.com/HKJCILCM/

Procedural Sedation Safety Course

HKJC ILCM has collaborated with the Hong Kong College of Anaesthesiologists (HKCA) to develop the Procedural Sedation Safety Course (PSSC) to facilitate medical professionals to meet the requirement for the HKAM Procedural Sedation Guideline published on 1 April 2019. The first course ran on 20 October 2019 and Fellows from different specialty Colleges participated. During the one-day course, participants experienced high-fidelity simulated scenarios related to procedural sedation practice and took part in interactive problem-based learning. After completion of the course, participants had a better understanding of monitoring during procedure and recovery, and were able to identify and manage sedation-related complications.

Air Crew Resuscitation Simulation Course

Co-organised by HKJC ILCM and The Hong Kong College of Anaesthesiologists, Air Crew Resuscitation Simulation (ACRS) Course is tailor-made for the Government Flying Service and its officers (Air Crewman Officer, Air Medical Officer, and Air Medical Nursing Officer) to strengthen their clinical and procedural skills from initial assessment on the scene to inflight treatment, especially in the face of potential acute clinical deterioration. The first course was successfully held on 15 December 2019 with 10 Government Flying Service Officers trained. Participants found the dynamic and focused training, delivered by experienced faculty, most rewarding and beneficial. More ACRS courses have been planned in the first half of 2020.

Upcoming courses

Course Title	Course Period
Comprehensive Simulation Educator Course (CSEC) – 4-day	27–28 June, 4–5 July 2020
	10–11, 17–18 October 2020
Debriefing Skills for Simulation Instructor Course (DSSI) – 2-day	13–14 June 2020
	8–9 August 2020
	7–8 November 2020

For the above courses, applications have opened and will close about 1 month before the first course day. For details, please visit the HKJC ILCM website: www.hkjcilcm.hk.

Obituary – Stephen HY Wei (1937–2020)

Prof Stephen HY Wei passed away peacefully on 27 January 2020 at the age of 82.

Prof Wei made profound contributions to the dental profession and community, particularly paediatric dentistry, serving many roles in Hong Kong, the United States, China, and internationally. In Hong Kong, among his many roles and achievements, Prof Wei was Former Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry, Former Chair Professor and Head of Children's Dentistry and Orthodontics at The University of Hong Kong, and Director of Prince Philip Dental Hospital. He was also the founding Editor-in-Chief of the Hong Kong Dental Journal and Founding President of the Hong Kong Society of Paediatric Dentistry.

Prof Wei was instrumental in forming the College of Dental Surgeons of Hong Kong and he served as founding President of the College from 1993 to 1995. For the Academy, Prof Wei was also an ex-officio member of the Academy Council (1993–1995), a member of the Building and Finance Committee (1994–1995), and a member of the House Committee (2009–2018).

Professor Stephen HY Wei

The passing away of Prof Wei is a great loss to the dental profession, as well as the local and international community. The Academy extends its deepest condolence to his family at this moment of grief.

Event Highlights

Workshop on Development of Best Practice Guidelines in Genetic and Genomic Medicine, 2 November 2019

The Workshop on Development of Best Practice Guidelines in Genetic and Genomic Medicine, organised by the newly established Professionalism and Ethics Committee (PEC), was successfully held on 2 November 2019 at the HKAM Jockey Club Building. Mr Fong Ngai, Deputy Secretary for Food and Health (Health) of Food and Health Bureau, Dr Libby Lee, Director (Strategy and Planning) of Hospital Authority, Dr Brian Chung, Clinical Associate Professor, Department of Paediatrics and Adolescent Medicine of Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine, and Dr Ivan Lo, Consultant Clinical Geneticist of Department of Health gave informative and insightful presentations related to the field of genetics and genomics. The Academy's Honorary Legal Advisor, Mr Woody Chang, also shared his expertise by talking about the legal issues related to genetic medicine. Attendees from various specialties exchanged views and had fruitful discussion afterwards.

Career talk co-organised with Hospital Authority, 9 November 2019

The Academy co-organised a career talk with Hospital Authority (HA) for medical interns, who are interested in 2020 / 2021 HA Resident Training Programme, at the Hospital Authority Building on 9 November 2019. Vice-President (Education & Examinations) Prof Gilberto Leung attended the event as one of the speakers and shared information related to postgraduate specialist training. The talk also highlighted the centrally-coordinated recruitment exercise for resident trainees. Consultation sessions were available from 17 specialties, with representatives from HA and The Academy, providing more informative details to the interns after the presentations. The career talk attracted over 150 attendants who demonstrated great interest in specialist training.

26th Annual General Meeting, 6 December 2019

The 26th Annual General Meeting (AGM) was held at Lim Por Yen Lecture Theatre with participation of over 30 Fellows. All the proposals on the agenda of the AGM notice were adopted. Five Elected Members of the Academy Council as listed below were successfully elected in accordance with the HKAM Ordinance. Their two-year term of office began immediately after the AGM.

Hong Kong Academy of Medicine Conference & Hong Kong Primary Care Conference 2019, 6–8 December 2019

Hong Kong Academy of Medicine Conference & Hong Kong Primary Care Conference 2019, with the theme “People-centred Care: Towards Value-Based Innovations”, was held on 6–8 December 2019. Under Secretary for Food and Health Dr TY Chui, and President of World Organisation of Family Doctors (WONCA) Dr Donald Li, officiated at the Opening Ceremony of the Conference.

The Halnan Lecture was delivered by Chairperson of Equal Opportunities Commission Mr Ricky Chu. The lecture titled “Knocking Down Barriers to Inclusive Healthcare” highlighted the potential barriers to accessing healthcare services and facilities, and suggested ways to enhance the inclusiveness of local healthcare system.

Dr Li delivered a plenary lecture on “Enhancing Primary Care in Hong Kong through the Provision of Integrated People-Centred Primary Care in District Health Centres”. His presentation illustrated how the comprehensive needs of individuals and communities in Hong Kong could be fulfilled, with the respect of their preferences by giving integrated people-centred health services at the newly established District Health Centres.

The conference also featured multi-specialty sessions that promoted exchanges of insights on providing the best people-centred care with value-based innovative approaches adopted.

More than 500 local and overseas delegates participated in the conference.
